

If your child is in daycare, they need extra care from you.

Children, especially those in group settings,
have a greater risk of exposure to the flu.

This puts them, and your family, at a higher risk.
So make sure your preschoolers get their seasonal flu shot right now.* You'll be protecting the ones you love, and giving your little ones the extra care they need.

For more information, ask your health care provider or pharmacist, call 2-1-1 or visit www.lah.gov/FightTheFlu.

 Children under six months are unable to receive flu vaccines. For their protection, make sure you and other caregivers get them right away.*
